

REPORTABLE BUSINESS RELATIONSHIP QUESTIONNAIRE

This questionnaire should not be submitted to JCOPE. It should, however, be kept as part of the filer's records for three years.

This questionnaire may be used, and relied upon in good faith, by a Lobbyist or Client Organization to send to its equity partners, officers, directors or High-Level Individuals, as applicable, to determine whether such persons have Reportable Business Relationships ('RBR') that must be disclosed by the Lobbyist or Client Organization.

A Lobbyist may send this to every person listed on its Statement of Registration and any equity partners, officers, or directors of its lobbying firm or organization who operate out of the same geographic office as any person listed on such Statement of Registration.

A Client Organization may send this to its High-Level Individuals, which are defined as proprietors, partners, directors, trustees or persons within the executive management of the Client Organization. If the Client is a college, High-Level Individuals include members of the college's governing board, the President or Chief Executive, and the Provost or Chief Academic Officer.

If the answers of the person filling out this questionnaire lead to an RBR that must be disclosed, the Lobbyist or Client should, for ease of filing, request such person to fill out Sections II and III of the RBR form and submit it to the Lobbyist or Client along with the completed questionnaire.

The questionnaire and RBR forms can be found on the 'Filing Information and Requirements' page located in the 'Lobbying' main navigation menu of the JCOPE website .
